

Internship Opportunities

Interested in the field of public health? Springdale Health Department is an accredited health department with opportunities for student internships in community and environmental health. Internships are offered year-round.

To express interest in joining the SHD team, students should email [health \[at\] springdale.org](mailto:health@springdale.org) (email) their resume.